

What is hktober?

An artist named Jake Parker started doing this back in '09. He started it as a way to get better and more confident at drawing and inking.

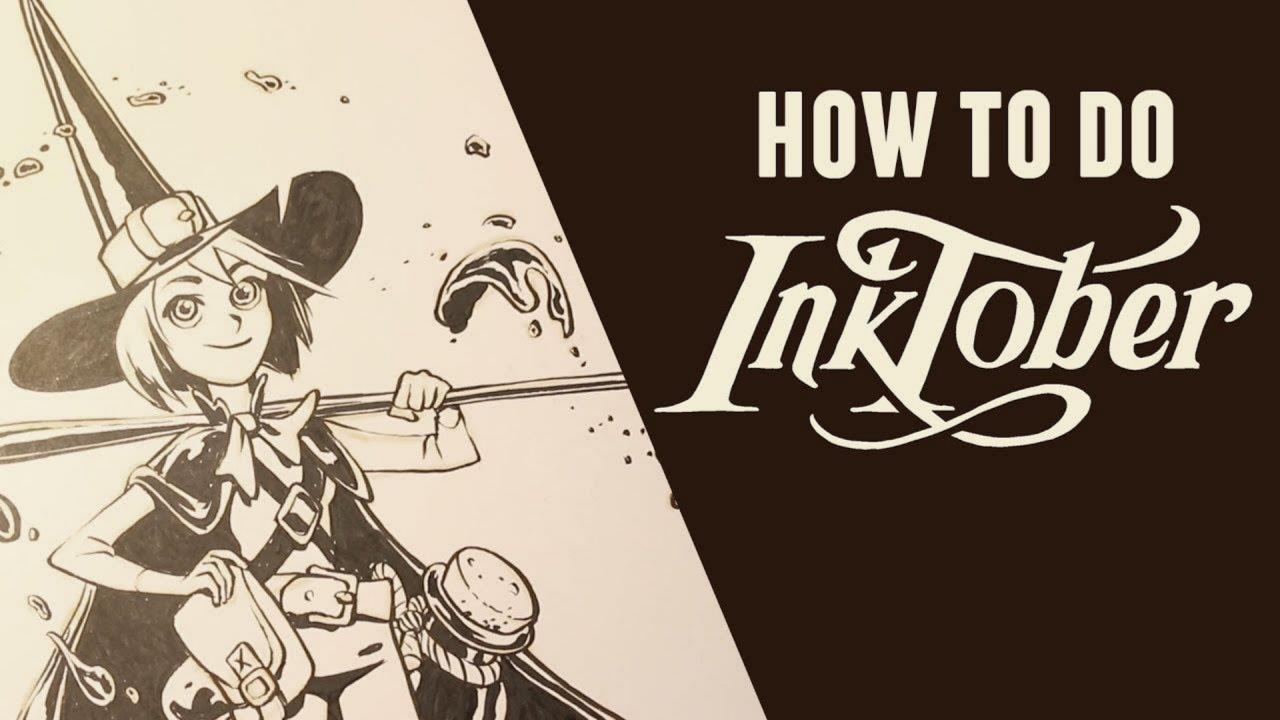

By the end of his first "Inktober", he saw improvement.

Here are some quick words from Jake:

"Shoot for something that's going to push you."

"It's not about making the greatest drawings, it's about developing positive drawing habits."

It's very simple.
You will be given a prompt for each day in October. Yes! There are 31!!

Start with a pencil sketch, then ink the lines you want to keep, then gently erase all the pencil.

That's it!

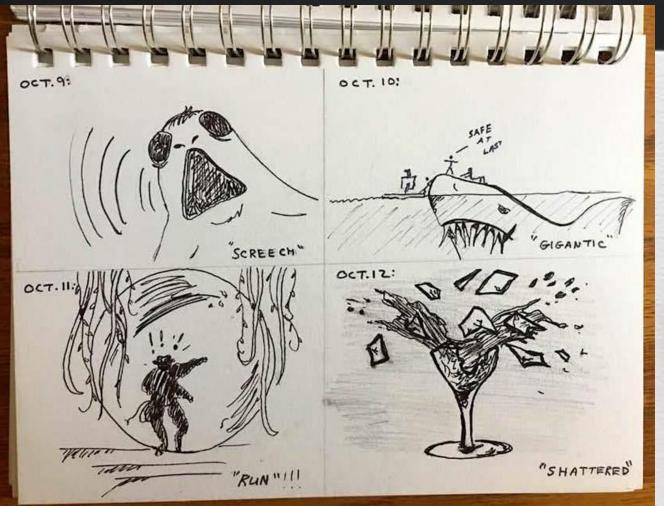

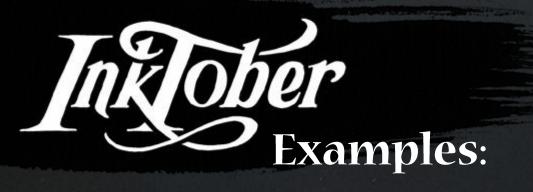

- paper
- Pencil and eraser
- Fine line pen (for fine line drawing)
- Black felt-tip pen (for filling bigger areas)

Gel pens, ballpoint pens and anything else that runs on ink is good.

October 1

Poisonous

October 2

Tranquis (casm)

October 3

Reasted

October 4

Spess

October 5

Thicken

October 6

Drooling

October

Exhausted

October 8

Star

October 9

Precious

October 10

Flowing

October 11

Trues

October 12

Whase

October 13

Guarded

October 14

Thock

October 15

Weak

October 16

Angusar

October 17

Swollen

October 18

Bottle

October 19

Scorched

October 20

Breakable

October 21

Drain

October 22

Expensive

October 23

Muddy

October 24

Thop

October 25

Prickly

October 26

Stretch

October 27

Thunder

October 28

Fift

October 29

Double

October 30

Lost

October 31

Slice

